Public Library

Books have been banned or challenged for a variety of reasons including offensive language or content, political or religious views and LGBTQ content. From February 19-25 we celebrate Freedom to Read Week by challenging you for the month of February to step outside your comfort zone and read some of these banned/challenged books. Bring this sheet to the library and for each book you read, you will receive one ballot. All forms and ballots must be submitted by February 28. Below is a list of books, write the titles of the books you've read on the opposite side.
